GIVING SIGHT

Hey everyone! I'm Kristen. Just a 28 year old trying to save the world. I've always had a passion for helping people. You may ask why glasses? Why not give food or clothes. Glasses to me are giving a person a whole new look on the world. This is important to me because I've been in the situation where I can't afford glasses. I've experienced the headaches, migraines and all that goes along with needing glasses. Help me to give our local community to see life easier and better
