

GOOGLE CLASSROOM

Life Christian Academy School of Performing Arts is not a public school or a charter high school, but we are a small private Christian school committed to preparing our students to be productive people who push to be better and better every day in every way. Google classrooms are a big thing now in education as it allows for children to be educated in a comfortable manner, surrounded by technology. I am raising this money in order to be able to provide this productive atmosphere to my "second chance" students. The goal is to raise enough money to purchase the following: 3 SmartBoards, 5 Rolling White Boards, 20 Node Desks, 5 Google Tablets. I am kicking this campaign off during these summer months in order to have the things purchased and classroom built by September. If you know me, you know I am passionate about education, my students, and pushing towards success....and to make this classroom happen for my students this upcoming school year would set the perfect tone for a successful school year. Thank you kindly in advance for your assistance with making this happen. Ms Campfield Head of School
